means good time to you for years to come. True economy in a time-piece lies in cleanliness. The delicate parts doing indispensable work will wear themselves to ruin, destroy the high finish and perfect fit when running in accumulating dirt and rancid oil. Reed and Ingalls.

"Why don't you grow?" said Tom Reed to Senator Ingalls some years ago, when both men were in the service of the people at Washington.

"Ah," said Ingalls, who was of very slight stature, "I'm too much interested in my fellow's life and property to assume to your magnificent height and proportion."

"And is not that my concern, too?" asked Reed deliberately.
"Impossible!" said Ingalls. "Walk on the edge of a board walk and you lift up the other end; stand in the middle and you break through. The people's safety lies in your being a middle of the road man."

Some days after Reed found Ingalls in a state of mental distraction. "Just swallowed the gold fillings of this front tooth," explained Senator Ingalls, pointing to the exposed cavity.

Reed laughed immediately. He drew himself up to his full height. As a victor he stood; his time of revenge had come.

"Ingalls, I congratulate you. You are now worth your weight in gold."

Ought to Have Known Him.
"About the limit of nerve that ever came under my observation," said an ex-prosecutor, "happened a few days ago when a man walked into my office and solicited a small loan. That he was drunk and had been for several days was evident at a glance. Dirty, bleary eyed, unshaven and with hands that shook like those of a professional roman candle shooter, he saluted me with easy familiarity, calling me by my first name. His face was vaguely familiar to me, but I could not recall where I had seen him. He asked for a quarter. I compromised with a dime. He took it with profuse thanks.

"Let's see," I called to him as he turned to go. "I can't quite place you. Who are you?"

"He wheeled and looked at me with an expression of pained surprise. "What? Don't know me? Why, good Lord, John! You put me in jail three times for wife beating!"—Kansas City Star.

Some Measures.
Herbert Spencer scorned the metric system because it rests solely on the fact that man has but ten fingers. However, a mile is but a "mille passum," or a thousand paces. The length of the foot was used for distances long before it was fixed at twelve inches. A "furlong" is only a furrow-long. The breadth of the hand became the standard because the easiest way of measuring the height of the horse. The length of the arm gave the length of the "ell," and from the elbow to the tip of the middle finger was the "cubit." By stretching out both arms as if on a cross man invented the measure of the "fathom." Cloth measure still decrees that two and one-half inches make a "nail," and this is the width of four fingers held together and measured across the nails. The apothecary's "drum" originally signified "only as much raw spirit as can be held in the mouth."

Editorial Pleasantries.
Two editors quarreled, and one referred to the other's early career in his paper.

"As for our contemporary," he wrote, "what can we expect from a man who was five years ago hawking from door to door with a donkey, and an ill conditioned beast at that?"

His rival did not deny it, but in his next issue appeared the following:
"Our contemporary says that five years ago we were hawking from door to door with a donkey, and an ill conditioned beast at that." He is quite right. We were so occupied. But we are surprised to find the donkey has such a good memory."

Won by a Nose.
"Bernard Shaw," said a dramatic critic, "always does the original thing. I went to see 'Caesar and Cleopatra' with him once, and as we stood in the aisle—the house was crowded—a stranger behind us persisted in poking his head right over Shaw's shoulder.

"Shaw then did the original thing. Taking out his handkerchief, he wiped the man's nose, patting and twisting it pretty vigorously.

"The man, with an ugly oath, jerked back his head.

"Oh, I beg your pardon," said Shaw. "I thought it was mine, you know."—Washington Star.

Ready to Bargain.
Sulitor (to her father)—Sir, I love the very ground your daughter treads on. Father (grin)—Well, young man, you ain't the first party that's had an attachment for it. Howsoever, if you love it well enough to come and help pay up the mortgage on it you can marry Sarah.—Exchange.

Hopeless.
Lawyer—You don't like the jury? Defendant—I do not. No. 1 is my tailor, No. 3 is my grocer, No. 5 is my milk and egg dealer and No. 7 is my wife's first husband. What chance have I got?—St. Paul Dispatch.

Expressed Differently.
"Madam, you ought to go to a warmer climate."

"For once, doctor, you and my husband are agreed, but he expresses the idea in more emphatic language."—New York Press.

He Contributed.
Missionary—Do you ever contribute money for the heathen in foreign lands, sir? Millionaire—Oh, yes. Both my daughters married foreign noblemen.

Those who are greedy of praise prove that they are poor in merit.—Plutarch

JOY THAT BRINGS WOE

Shock of Sudden Glad Tidings at Times Turns the Brain.

IT HAS DRIVEN PEOPLE MAD.

Some of the Saddest Cases of Lunacy Are Those Where the Mind Is Unable to Stand the Strain of News of Unexpected Good Fortune.

It is no exaggeration to assert, said an asylum doctor of long and varied experience, that there are scores of men and women in insane asylums who have literally been sent there through excess of joy. Many of these cases which are, in my opinion, the saddest of all have come under my own observation.

I remember in the very first asylum with which I was connected one of the patients was a strikingly handsome and very well educated man, who was as sane as you or I except on one point. He was really a man of considerable wealth, but his delusion was that he was a pauper, and he would tell the most pitiful tales of his destitution, begging, with tears in his eyes, for a few coppers with which to buy bread.

According to the story told me, he was the only son of a wealthy merchant. In his youth he had fallen among evil companions and had led such a dissolute life that his father not only threatened to disinherit him, but forbade him ever to enter his house again. After that he seems to have sunk into the lowest depths of poverty until he was glad to earn a few coppers by selling papers or matches in the streets.

It was at this last and lowest stage that news came to him that his father had died intestate and that he was heir to all his vast fortune. The sudden news completely turned the man's brain and brought on such a condition of excitement that he had to be sent to an asylum, and when he calmed down again he had lost all recollection of his good fortune, and nothing could shake his delusion that he was on the verge of starvation.

Another patient in the same asylum was a young and in his lucid moments a most intelligent fellow, whose "brain was turned," as the saying is, on learning that he had passed an examination. He had sat for the matriculation examination at the University of London, on passing which he had set his heart and had asked a friend in London to wire the result as soon as the names were screened at Burlington House.

About three weeks later came a fatal telegram, "Failed—sorry," which sent the young man into the lowest depths of despair, for he was too old to sit again. Not many hours later, however, came another telegram, "Passed honors—very sorry crush so great did not see name this morning." The revulsion of feeling was so great that the student's reason gave way, and he became so violent in his excitement that he had to be confined. Fortunately he was not with us long and is now, I am glad to know, doing very well as a solicitor.

Disappointed love sends many people to asylums, but it is very seldom that success in wooing drives a man mad. It had this strange effect, however, on one of my late patients. The girl he loved, had gone out to India to keep house for her brother before he had screwed up his courage to the point of proposing to her, but an offer followed by mail very quickly after her.

Weeks and months passed and no answer came to the impatient lover until, after waiting two years in despair, he became engaged to a girl who had nothing but her money bags to recommend her and for whom he had not a particle of love. Scarcely, however, was his fate sealed than he received the long despatch of letter from India, accepting his offer and explaining that the girl's brother had received and mislaid the letter, which had only just been found and had come into her hands.

Within an hour of the receipt of this letter the man was a raving maniac, and, although his condition is improved, I doubt whether he will ever recover his reason.

In another remarkable case it was the joy at seeing her husband again that robbed a lady patient of her reason. Her husband was the captain of a merchant ship which was reported to have gone down with all hands. The widow had deeply mourned her husband for nearly a year when one day on returning from a walk she found him sitting in the drawing room as hale and robust as ever.

With a shriek she fell unconscious on the floor, and when she recovered her reason was gone. It seems that her husband, after floating for some time, had been picked up by a passing "tramp" and had been landed on the west coast of Africa, from which he had returned home by the first available vessel.—London Spectator.

Charitable.
It is said of the author of a volume of biography that his verdict on the great of his chosen period is much that of the New Hampshire parson at the highly approved funeral of a parishioner: "Brethren, we must agree that our deceased friend was mean in some things, but let us in Christian charity allow that he was meaner in others."

Both Sides.
Doctor's Little Girl—Your papa owes my papa money. Lawyer's Little Girl—That's nothing. Papa said he was glad to get off with his life.—Baltimore American.

SONOMA INDEX - TRIBUNE

Sonoma, May 14, 1910.

H. H. GRANICE, EDITOR.

England's Bereavement

THE simple and expressive message penned by the bereaved Queen Alexandra to the English nation touches the heart of the world, for beneath the monarchical trappings and underlying the royal purple we find palpitating pity such as agitates the breast of the most lowly. Death is truly a leveler. The message to the people might have been written in language of state by the Queen's minister but it would not have appealed to the nation and quickened the devotion like the Queen's own sentiment. The concluding lines asks the English people to accord her son the same loyalty and devotion shown King Edward.

The succeeding King, being the son of such a mother, cannot be a bad man, but unfortunately weak Kings have plunged their countries into as awful crises as have wicked ones. England at the present time has had grave issues in the balance and it is hoped that the new hand at the nation's helm will be strong and judicious. It appears that religious intolerance, a remnant of the bitter past, which is still expressed in the King's oath is sought to be abolished, and with the striking out of the words "abjuring the Church of Rome" it would seem that it would lessen the breach between the greater religious factions and thereby make the new King stronger.

Sonoma's New Epoch.

SONOMA will enter upon a new epoch when she comes into a modern sewage system and an increased supply of water. The fact that the town has grown to such an extent without these things only indicates what her possibilities will be when we are possessed of these modern facilities.

No where will proper sewage and plentiful water be more appreciated than in our public school where parents have long deplored sanitary arrangements, which according to present methods were the only ones possible. That we escaped so many epidemics is a matter of Providence, but we cannot always depend on the Almighty. We must help ourselves and protect our children, so let us go to the polls and carry the sewer proposition by a handsome majority.

An abundance of water if properly utilized and combined with hard work and artistic ideas should transform our school grounds into attractive flower beds and grass plots. If we cannot have a new school building right now we can at least show that we are worthy of one by demonstrating to any hostile taxpayer what can be done with the grounds and actually force upon his imagination a picture of a handsome modern structure in the new setting.

The Time, the Place and the Man.

Halley has a comet,
An early morning bird;
To rise and see its wonder
Is really quite absurd.
I asked Scientific Wonder
What time; he said "ahem,"
Get out and gaze up skyward
About—well, 3 a. m.
I do not know just whether
The comet has a hue,
But I emit a blue streak,
Between just me and you:
As my trusty alarm clock
Announces 3 a. m.
I turn upon my pillow
And say O D A M.

Going to see "Uncle Rube"?

The charming comedy, "Uncle Rube," will be staged this (Saturday) evening in Union Hall by members of the Woman's Club, assisted by several gentlemen. It is a jolly play and will be sure to draw a full house, as besides wistling a merry evening, everybody is desirous of helping the Club ladies give their Carnival far reaching fame, and the proceeds of this entertainment are to be spent in advertising.

A. Lutgens installed a soda fountain in W. I. Robinson's store at Vineburg one day this week.

Aids Nature

The great success of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery in curing weak stomachs, wasted bodies, weak lungs, and obstinate and lingering coughs, is based on the recognition of the fundamental truth that "Golden Medical Discovery" supplies Nature with body-building, tissue-repairing, muscle-making materials, in condensed and concentrated form. With this help Nature supplies the necessary strength to the stomach to digest food, build up the body and thereby throw off lingering obstinate coughs. The "Discovery" re-establishes the digestive and nutritive organs in sound health, purifies and enriches the blood, and nourishes the nerves—in short establishes sound vigorous health.

If your dealer offers something "just as good," it is probably better FOR HIM—it pays better. But you are thinking of the cure not the profit, so there's nothing "just as good" for you. Say so.

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, in Plain English; or, Medicine Simplified, 1008 pages, over 700 illustrations, newly revised up-to-date Edition, paper-bound, sent for 21 one-cent stamps, to cover cost of mailing only. Cloth-bound, 31 stamps. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

man was named as commissioner to partition the land.

The suit of the County of Sonoma vs. Tomasini was reset for May 25.

Default was entered against L. E. Davis and Minnie Boppli in the suit of Hilderbrand vs. Hicks, et al.

These matters were continued: Fox et al. vs. Hall et al., to May 20; Lumsden vs. Lumsden; Stillman & Co., vs. A. B. Cartwright et al; in re homestead of Frieda Pond, De Bernardi vs. Rikon-Ehrhart Co., Golden Eagle Milling Company vs. Henry Halleck, et al., Butler vs. Leek, Gregory vs. Anderson, to May 16.

The trial of the suit of the Markham Lumber Co. vs. Laton Lumber Co. to June 28.

Default was entered in the suit of Orbie L. Bish vs. Thomas E. Bish and the trial was set for May 16.

THE WEIGHT OF MONEY

Do You Think You Could Lift a Fortune in Silver Coins?

IF YOU DO YOU ARE MISTAKEN

Two Hundred Pounds of Quarters Would Give You Only $3,657, While the Same Weight of Gold Would Give $54,050—Weight of Paper Money

"I wish I had all the money I could lift!" How many of the thousands who make this get-rich-quick wish have any idea of the amount they would have if the wish should be granted. Few name the denomination of the money on which they desire to test their strength, perhaps believing that their lifting powers would make them wealthy no matter what kind of money they lifted.

If they were asked how much they could lift in silver or small bills the majority probably would name some fabulous sum which investigation would show several men could not budge. In gold or in paper money of large denominations the ordinary individual would be able to lift a fair sized fortune, but to win a million by lifting it in anything less than twenty dollar bills would need the strength of a veritable Sandow.

An official of the treasury who is interested in odd statistics in his department was asked how much money the average man could lift in the various denominations of gold, silver and paper.

"Well," he replied, "a man could make money on that proposition if he could get hold of paper money of large denominations, but on the smaller bills, silver and gold he would not be a millionaire by any means."

"The weight of money is very deceptive. For instance, a young man, a friend of mine, came in to see me one day with his fiancée. 'I was showing them through my department and asked my friend if he thought the young woman was worth her weight in gold. He did think so, most emphatically, and after ascertaining that her weight was one 107 pounds we figured that she would be worth in gold coin exactly $28,647. Her fiancée thought that would be pretty cheap. 'Perhaps more people are deceived on the weight of paper money than on the metals. Now, how many one dollar bills do you think would be necessary to weigh as much as a five dollar gold piece?'"

Fifty was ventured as a guess, and the statistician laughed. "I have had guesses on that all the way from 50 to 500," he said, "and some of them from men who have handled money for years. As a matter of fact, with a five dollar gold piece in one scale you would have to put about six and a half bills in the other to balance it."

He produced figures to prove that a five dollar gold piece weighed two hundred and ninety-six thousandths of an ounce avoirdupois. An employee who makes the new bills up in packages of 100 each said that a hundred bills weighed four and one-half ounces. That would make one bill weigh forty-five thousandths of an ounce, and between six and seven would balance the gold piece.

Figures on the lifting proposition were furnished from the department where the money is weighed in bags as standards. The standard amount for gold coin, $5,000, weighs eighteen and a half pounds. Five hundred silver dollars weigh thirty-five and a half pounds, and $200 in half dollars, or 400 coins, weighs eleven pounds. Taking 200 pounds as a good lift for an average man, these results were obtained:

METAL MONEY.
Gold coins (all of standard weight) $54,050.00
Silver dollars 2,617.00
Half dollars 5,234.00
Quarters 5,234.00
Dimes 2,617.00
Nickels 917.00
Cents 286.01

PAPER MONEY.
One dollar bills $71,111
Two dollar bills 142,222
Five dollar bills 355,555
Ten dollar bills 711,111
Twenty dollar bills 1,422,222
Fifty dollar bills 3,555,555
One hundred dollar bills 7,111,111
Five hundred dollar bills 35,555,555
Thousand dollar bills 71,111,111

Two hundred pounds of $10,000 gold certificates, the largest denomination issued by the United States government, would amount to enough to finance a full grown trust—$71,111,000. If the young woman who was worth $28,647 in gold coin had been worth her weight in these $10,000 certificates she would have been valued at $390,444,385.—F. T. Pope in Chicago Record-Herald.

Appreciated.
Tubb—Old boy, I want to congratulate you on your speech at the banquet last night. O'Sudds (after waiting a moment)—I know you do, pard, and you're awfully sorry you can't do it truthfully. I appreciate the effort, just the same. Nasty weather, isn't it?—Chicago Tribune.

A Misunderstanding.
"The management of one of the big opera houses in New York has to pay $2,000 a week for conductors."
"Does it pay the same rate for morticians?"—Judge.

Clean Living.
James—A bath bun and two sponge cakes, please. Waitress—Two sponges and a bath for this gentleman, please!—London Opinion.

* From swearing men easily slide into perjury.—Hercules.
